Frequently Asked Questions

Is there a shipping fee?

There is a shipping fee according to the size of the image and distance it has to go, to find out an exact cost please email us on:

general@jessicahaymanphotography.co.uk

What does High Resolution mean?

It means that the images on the disc can be printed up to large sizes and even into canvases and posters, low resolution means you can only print at standard printing sizes.

What is meant by 'selected' images?

This basically means any shots of eye closed, blurry etc is taken out and you literally get the best images of your shoot!

How do we order?

You can email us (see the details below) or you can call us with your order and then send on the payment for your order to the business address for payment. We will then confirm receipt and will send you your order within two weeks.
